

mitschstone

Mitch Stone, creator of Mitch Stone Essentials, is one of the hair world's most respected talents. Stone's career has spanned film, television, fashion, editorial and advertising, and has given him a rich perspective that makes him one of the most sought after celebrity hairstylists around. He was part of the Oscar -winning team on 2005's Lemony Snicket's Series of Unfortunate Events. His work is informed by a multitude of passions and avocations that include photography, writing, surfing, and environmental activism.

In his native Southern California, Stone has a celebrity clientele that relies on his talents both for film and television work and red carpet appearances. Stone has also worked with prestigious photographers including Herb Ritts, Albert Watson, Sir Arthur Elgort and Peter Arnell, and styled hair for runway shows for Armani, Cynthia Rowley, Adrienne Vittadini and Patricia Fields. His editorial work has appeared in Elle, Vogue, Vanity Fair, InStyle, Rolling Stone and countless other glossies. He has also worked on major advertising campaigns for Victoria's Secret, Ray Ban, Levi's and many more.

Stone brings his lengthy experience working with models and actors to his eponymous line of styling products, the first to be infused with a proprietary vitamin complex known as VCompS™. He has always considered it his job not only to make his clients look good, but to keep their hair healthy, despite the hot lights, long hours, and perpetual styling required on set.
